Test and Quizzes (when applicable for the course):

Missed tests and quizzes beyond the limits of this accommodation or for reasons not associated with this accommodation may be addressed in accordance with course policy.

Group Discussions (when applicable for the course):

- Requirements for webcourse group discussions need to be completed within the time frame allotted, as learning can only take place during the times when the conversations are active.

- For any potentially missed course activity related to the CPA, the student needs to contact the professor preferably before but definitely no later than 24 hours after the course event (paper due date, test date, etc.) in order to coordinate the accommodations outlined in this arrangement.
- The student must reference this accommodation and verify a health exacerbation in the email/communication to assist the professor with managing logistics.
